8th Annual Trail Trials & Trail Ride

General Information: The Trail Trials (T.T.'s) is an opportunity to test the rider-horse 'partnership'. Trail horses and riders experience a vast and diverse set of stimuli in the normal course of a day's trail ride. T.T.'s takes these stimuli, consisting of natural obstacles as well as fun ones, and allows riders to enjoy a day of fun competition. Together, the 'partnership' should exhibit fundamental skills and harmony. Riders are judged on how well they ('partnership') negotiate an obstacle, with the emphasis on calmness, patience and safely moving through it.

There are usually 10-15 obstacles. Some obstacles are designed to see if the horse-rider can trust each other. For example; roping a steer head is designed not to see how good a roper the rider is, but how much patience the 'partners' give each other. Creek & river crossings, uphill, downhill, logs of various sizes, bridges, gates, dragging, moving obstacles, backing through various 'things'. Horses should be aware and not spook, shy or spin, as well as should not be unaware and stumble and clip obstacles.
